Dear Sir:

BLITHE SPIRIT

We acknowledge with pleasure the receipt of your letter in which you inquire regarding the amount of royalty due for producing the play mentioned above. The fee for one performance of such play is $ 50.00, payable to this office one week in advance of the date of production. Our receipt for this amount will constitute your authority to produce this play.

If you do not already have a copy of our latest complete catalogue, we shall be pleased to send you one on receipt of your request.

P.S. - We are pleased to quote you a special rate of $25.00 for each repeat performance.

Yours very truly,

SAMUEL FRENCH

Opening Night

The Glendale Dramatic Club opens a three-night stand tonight of Agatha Christie's play "Ten Little Indians." The mystery thriller will be staged at 8:30 o'clock through Saturday at the Glendale Lyceum.

The Rev. James Clarke, a member of the cast, and Mrs. Clarke, gave a dinner for the cast before the dress rehearsal last night. Another party for the same group will be given at the Lyceum following the final performance Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burchenal, whose son, Mr. John Burchenal, is President of the dramatic club, will give a dinner before tomorrow's performance. Their guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Charles D.
Burchenal of New York, who are visiting Mrs. Roger K. Rogan.

THE GLENDALE DRAMATIC CLUB, which consists principally of the young married group of the village and those identified with the post-debutante group, will stage a three-night stand this week at the Glendale Lyceum.

Agatha Christie's thriller, "Ten Little Indians," will be presented Thursday, Friday and Saturday to what promises to be packed houses.
The plays presented by the dramatic club are always attended by enthusiastic Glendalians, and many guests.

Mr. John Burchenal is chairman of the club, Mrs. Elisabeth Shetter Matthews, Vice Chairman; Mr.
Stephen Burton, Treasurer, and Mr.
Hugh Garvin Jr., Business Manager.

The cast of characters for the mystery play consists of Mr. William Ellis Jr., Miss Finita Peck, Mr.
John Gallagher, Mrs. Bart Hawley, the Rev. James Clarke, Mr. Howard Roelofs, Miss Stephanie Poor, Mr. Roger MacArthur, Mr. James Stewart, Mr. Bruce Lowe and Mr.
Louis Haffner.

The all-important stage manager is Mr. Charles Lambie, who will be assisted by Mr. William Burchenal Jr. and Mr. Pat Stewart. Mr. Malcolm McLeod, stage designer, has as his aids Miss Sugi Heekin, Miss Gay Seybolt and Miss Emily Richardson.

Mr. Hugh Carmichael is in charge of stage lighting. The property manager is Mr. Roger MacArthur, assisted by Miss Ellen Langtry Gordon and Miss Beatrice Burchenal.

* designates individuals Grant Thompson should contact to effectuate his interpretation of what the play calls for.

Each of the above crews should plan to complete its share of the work on its own schedule, bearing in mind the dates set for performance are December 1, 2 and 3.

Flats are going up this week. A full turnout of the construction crew on Sunday November 13 will certainly be appreciated. We want to leave the set that night fully erected and squared, with a base coat of paint a - drying.
