CHEERS BACKSTORY

The two acts performed tonight are drawn from the Cheers TV show, which aired 275 episodes between September 1982 and May 1993. In its first year, Cheers was nearly cancelled due to low ratings. But audiences quickly caught on and the show consistently scored top 10 ratings in its remaining seasons. It earned 28 Emmy Awards from a record count of 118 nominations.

Act 1, "Give Me A Ring Sometime" is the pilot episode for the show. It introduces all of the main characters. The storyline centers on how Diane Chambers, a university snob, came to be a waitress and sets up the romantic tension between her and Sam Malone, the bar's proprietor.

Act 2, "Sumner's Return" is set several months later. In this episode, Diane and Sam are now happily dating. Diane's fiancé from Act 1 returns and tries to tempt her back into his life. Diane is forced to choose between her life with Sam and characters at Cheers and her previously life in academia.

Who's Who in the Cast

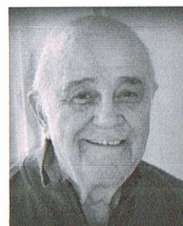

Jim Wesselman - Sam Malone

I am a Glendale resident and Lyceum member. My first roles were two minor parts in Joe D'Amato's "Christmas with Anton". I was Juror #3 in "Twelve Angry Men". I then played the part of Oscar Madison in "Odd Couple". My next role was as Sidney Bruhl in "Death Trap". All of my roles have been performed at the Glendale Lyceum, because no one else would have me!

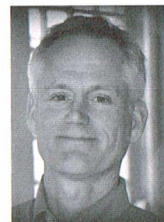

Heather Geary - Diane Chambers

This is my first time on stage, save being an Oatmeal box in a first or second grade play and tap dancing on the Ruth Lyons show as a preschooler. I'm having fun so far, but I'm quite nervous. It is a great opportunity for one who has no experience to try acting. I'm hoping not to fall on my face! I have assisted backstage on Lyceum productions as stage manager for Plaza Suite and Life with Father.

Joe D'Amato - Ernie Pantusso

Second Time Around was my first role on the Lyceum stage. I appeared in Plaza Suite, The Rebels are Coming, Funny Money, and my own Christmas With Anton. I have directed, Life with Father, Twelve Angry Men, Last of the Red Hot Lovers, Love Letters, Funny Money, The Odd Couple, and Death Trap. It's nice to be back on the stage and having someone, besides Linda, give me grief.

Jay Wheeler - Sumner Slone

Previous appearances include Deathtrap, Last of the Red Hot Lovers, The Odd Couple and Frasier. And, of course, the role that started it all for me: the time-obsessed and largely silent Juror #2 in Twelve Angry Men.

Lynn Murray - Carla Tortelli

Lyceum Productions - Cocktails for Mimi, Second Time Around, Steel Magnolias, The Gin Game - acting
South Pacific, Peter Pan, On a Clear Day (directing), Sound of Music, Damn Yankees, Carnival, various stunt nights, reviews - choreography.
Princeton High School - West Side Story, Bye Bye Birdie, Annie Get Your Gun, Fiddler on the Roof - choreography.
Thespian Society - National Convention: Musical program - choreography. Glendale Sesquicentennial - The Rebels Are Coming - choreography.
Happy to be part of 4 generations of family performing in Lyceum productions.

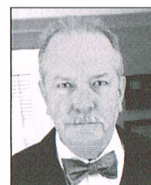

Jack Murray - Cliff Calvin

Acting debut in the 1040 Christmas production at Glidden School, DeKalb, IL. (Black Sheep, non speaking). Lyceum productions of Cocktails for Mimi, Whales of August, Deathtrap, In the Glendale Sesquicentennial production of The Rebels Are Coming (General, Act I; Private, Act 2, townsman, Act 3)

Steve Geary (Norm) first appeared on stage in a 7th grade production of Mary Poppins at St. Mary's Elementary School in Stamford Connecticut. After moving to Cincinnati, he has had roles in various productions, including Plaza Suite, Life with Father, Pirates of Penzance, Man from La Mancha and Carnival. Steve has worked with a number of theater groups throughout the Cincinnati area and is currently a member of the Loveland Stage Company. He enjoys lighting, sound, and general stage crew activities. Over the years, theater has been a rewarding and enriching lifetime experience for Steve. Steve thanks Glenna Knapp for her encouragement and training in the theatrical arena over the years.

Bob Eidson - Mr. Littlefield

Bob is a newcomer to the stage and the thespian art.
